Pricing Promotions:

A promotion is similar to the pricing rules page, the difference here is that it can be applied automatic to products from certain collections or tags. And it can have a start and end date.

The user can also select some products directly and only apply this promo code to this specific product. The products that will show will be from all channels so the user can select from it and apply the promo to that product on this channel.

When the user click to select 1 or more collections, they will see the following menu:

The screenshot shows the Amazon Seller Central interface. The left sidebar contains navigation links: Home, Products, Channels, Inventory, Pricing, Rules, Prices Management, Promotions, and User. The main content area is titled 'Promotions' and includes a search bar, a '+ Add New' button, and a table of active promotions. The table has columns for Promotion ID, Name, Discount, Status, and various filters. The first two rows are highlighted with red boxes. The first row is for a promotion named 'AMZ-20' with a 20% discount, and the second row is for a promotion named 'Mia-15' with a 15% discount. Both are for 'Amazon (Store-A)' and 'Amazon (Store-B)' respectively. The table also shows columns for 'View All', 'Status', 'Start Date', 'End Date', 'Created Date', and 'Created By'. The bottom of the page shows a pagination bar with '3 Results' and a 'Show: 5' dropdown.

Annotations on the screenshot include:

- A red arrow pointing to the 'Promotions' header with the text: "Change status to 'Inactive' Remove any modification that this promo made on prices."
- A red arrow pointing to the 'Edit' button with the text: "change status to active"
- A red arrow pointing to the 'Deactivate' button with the text: "delete and deactivate the effect of this promo code"
- A red arrow pointing to the 'Add New' button with the text: "Open the promo page with all details as if creating a new one from the 'Add New' but show all details of promo saved and allow user to make modifications and click 'save'."
- A red arrow pointing to the 'User' link in the sidebar with the text: "-similar to the single product edit page."

The user can still click on each column to sort it alphabetically.

View All will go to the same page as when the user click on the Promo ID. It goes to the same edit page.
